

Resetting Your Internet Start (Home) Page

These days there are many websites, advertisers, spyware and malware that try to steer you to their own sites. One method is to change your start-up page without your knowledge. Usually this is easy to correct:

In Internet Explorer:
Click “TOOLS”
Then “Internet Options”

On the “General” Tab,
Go to the HomePage address.

In the Home page address box, type in the start page you prefer and click “Apply.”

Or, if you are already at the page you want as your default home page, click “Use Current” and then “Apply” then “OK.”
